Introduction

This document describes the principles for purchasing services and supplies according to the requirements of sub clause 6.6 of the PNS ISO/IEC 17025:2017 standard.

1. Framework

The framework for purchasing services and supplies is provided by the respective legislation applied to BFAR RFL. Purchasing is carried out through the BFAR – Bids and Awards Committee upon request of BFAR RFLD.

2. Specifications of purchasing

BFAR RFLD XII ensures that only suitable externally provided products and services that affect laboratory activities are used, when such products and services:

- a) are intended for incorporation into the laboratory's own activities;
- b) are provided, in part or in full, directly to the customer by the laboratory, as received from the external provider;
- c) are used to support the operation of the laboratory.

The respective general procedure provides the mechanisms to define the specifications of any service of material to be purchased. All specifications are defined by the respective personnel of BFAR RFL to assure the quality of the purchased services and materials.

Purchasing includes materials necessary for the operation of the laboratories and the administration of BFAR-RFLD XII, equipment and relevant material, as well as services provided by third parties, such as calibration/testing, consulting and training.

3. Control and Evaluation of Purchased Services and Materials

All purchased services and materials are controlled with respect to the initial specifications by the responsible personnel of BFAR-RFLD XII and are accepted only if they meet the quality criteria of BFAR-RFLD XII. Evaluation of the quality and the performance of suppliers take place at least once a year, at the first quarter.
